The Park is a bespoke step-through mental health rehabilitation service regulated by the Care Quality Commission, providing placements for adult males of working age.

We are part of The Maples Community, a well-established group of organisations working together to provide specialist rehabilitation, recovery, and accommodation services in the southwest. The Park has been developed to aid and facilitate successful pathways to maximised independence within the community.

Our multidisciplinary team consisting of Psychology, General and Mental Health Nursing, Occupational Therapy, and Specialist Support, works collaboratively with the service user and their wider professional teams to develop personalised packages of care. Our interventions are designed to provide the skills, knowledge and self-belief required to live a successful and healthy life in the community.

Our Vision

To create effective and meaningful pathways to the community

The Setting

Located in Falfield, South Gloucestershire, and set within its own expansive grounds, the semi-rural location offers an idyllic environment for staged re-engagement with the community. The Park provides the next steps to independence for individuals transitioning from extended stays within inpatient settings.

The site is spread over two floors, offering twelve ensuite bedrooms situated on both levels. Additionally, the building offers multiple communal spaces including a gym, art space, music & media suite, training kitchen, recreation rooms, and group therapy room.

The environment has been developed to offer a diverse range of spaces that inspire connections and to help minimise the fears and anxieties of community living.

Training Kitchen

Creative suite

Our Music and Media suite is fully kitted out with instruments and recording equipment, allowing service users to express themselves creatively
